SALERNO, Italy (AP)—Cloudbursts and landslides spread death and destruction today in this playground of summer tourists, taking 125 lives in Salerno province alone. About half the deaths were in this port city on the Gulf of Salerno. Scores of homes crumbled, entombing many persons. The death toll ran 10 miles westward along a little peninsula—a favored region of American and European visitors—all the way from Salerno to terraced Amalfi.

The estimate of dead came from military police in Salerno Province. Many persons were injured, but there was no accurate count of these casualties.

Mud choked the streets of Salerno, a city of 70,000. All traffic was halted. The outlying section of Canolani was virtually destroyed.

The Italian Army rushed in troops as leaden skies still poured rain down on the ravaged villages and cities. Landslides compounded the terror.

Officials said it is impossible yet to estimate the total death toll. Many persons may still be buried.

Citizens Of Trieste Cheer As Italians Take Adriatic City

By WEBB MCKINLEY

TRIESTE (AP)—Italy took over Trieste today in a rain-drenched but fervent celebration marking the end of nine years of British-American control over this long-disputed Adriatic city.

A bitter wind and slanting rain washed out a series of ceremonies scheduled for the formal change of command.

But a cheering throng of Trieste citizens broke through police barriers when Italian Army, Navy and Airforce units marched into the city for the first time since World War Two.

Thousands pressed onto the waterfront to hail a five-ship Italian naval squadron as it steamed into the harbor. Their cheers nearly drowned out the roar of 24 Italian airforce jets which swept across the city's grey skies.

The formal end of the Allied Military Government came at 10 a. m. with a proclamation signed by British Major General Sir John Winterton, Allied military governor of the Trieste Territory's Zone A.

The American troopship W. G. Haan pulled out shortly afterwards with about 1,700 U. S. troops aboard. The people momentarily dropped their greetings to the Italians. With cheers, waving flags and honking of horns along the waterfront they bade farewell to the Americans.

Arms Discussion Near End In UN

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The long U. N. arms debate neared a close today with a call by India for a halt on weapons production until a worldwide disarmament pact can be reached.

India's V. K. Krishna Menon, last speaker listed in the debate, sought the floor in the 60-nation Political Committee to present his appeal for a standstill agreement.

The Indian resolution called on the U. N. Disarmament Commission to study ways of setting up an "armament truce" pending agreement on a disarmament convention. Menon previously urged a halt in the production of atomic bombs until measures could be set up to eliminate them, but nothing ever came of it.

The resolution circulated among delegates Monday night also called on the General Assembly to recess in December — instead of adjourning so it could reconvene quickly if the Disarmament Commission issued a report requiring immediate action.

After Menon's speech, the committee is expected to press for a quick vote on a resolution to set up secret five-power disarmament talks again. The resolution—co-sponsored by Russia, France, Britain, the United States and Canada—appeared certain to win approval. The five nations held a series of fruitless meetings on the issue in London earlier this year.

Woman Involved In Cop-Killing

CHICAGO (AP)—A prosecutor said Monday the girl-friend of a trigger-happy, cop-killer faces a charge of accessory to murder.

Asst. State's Atty. Irwin Bloch said Monday two charges are in preparation against Mrs. Delores Del Genio Marcus, 23, described by police as the paramour of Agostino (Gus) Amedeo, 26.

Amedeo has been sought by 13 police squads with shot-to-kill orders since a gun battle Oct. 21 in which Detective Charles P. Annerino, 30, was slain.

Bloch said Mrs. Marcus helped Amedeo after the slaying. She already has been charged with aiding a felon to escape, following Amedeo's flight from custody last June. Police said that at that time she smuggled a revolver to Amedeo which he used to obtain his freedom.

The prosecutor said an additional charge of harboring a felon will be placed against the woman.

Bonus Proposal To Be Expensive

LANSING (AP)—The Citizens Research Council of Michigan said today the 80 million dollar Korean veterans bonus on the Nov. 2 ballot proposal No. 3 "may easily be" the most expensive for its size ever submitted to the people.

In an analysis, the council said the proposed bond issue stipulates that not more than one million dollars of the bonds may fall due for the first 10 years, or until 1965.

Obviously, the council said, this is intended to delay the impact of the bond issue repayment on the state treasury until the 270 million dollar World War II bonus bonds have been paid.

"In assessing the bonus bond proposal," the council said, "its merits need to be contrasted with other needs of the state."

Among these, the council said, were the "imminent demands" for additional school facilities, prison space and the "ever-present mental health problem."

The council made no recommendation.

Scare Complex May Prove Big Boost For GOP

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans are running so scared they may have frightened themselves into a stronger position than they held 30 days ago in the bloc of industry—farm states stretching from Indiana to Pennsylvania.

A fear complex caused by talk of a Democratic trend—whether real or imagined—has spurred the GOP into efforts that possibly could salvage campaigns which have appeared to be lost causes in the battle for Congress.

A look at the campaigns in six states—Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, West Virginia and Indiana—leaves a strong impression that it's a tight, close fight in this region. The payoff could very well go to the side with the best organization for getting out the vote.

Alleged Pontiac Embezzler Held In Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A Pontiac, Mich. investment company executive who vanished leaving a suicide note when a $150,000 shortage was found in his books in August, 1953, was arrested here Monday after a 14-month manhunt.

Police found Eugene A. Parmenter, 34, working as a bookkeeper in a hardware store under the name of Edward O. Parker.

Parmenter said he would waive extradition and return to Michigan to face embezzlement charges.

Parmenter's arrest followed 14 months of investigation by Pontiac Police Chief Herbert Straley and Capt. Clark M. Wheaton, Pontiac chief of detectives.

They had refused to believe Parmenter took his life at Manistee where he abandoned car and a suicide note were found. They traced him to Ludington, New York City finally Oklahoma City by way of Austin, Texas, where Parmenter's former wife lives.

His wife, Clara May, had obtained a divorce last spring after her husband's disappearance and returned to her former home in Austin.

It was Parmenter's attempt to communicate with his former wife that led to his arrest, Weaton said.

The actual arrest was made by Oklahoma City police and a private detective, Harold Hooper.

Missing C47 With 21 Americans Aboard Still Being Hunted

NICE, France (AP)—Plane wreckage was sighted high in the French Alps in the hunt today for a missing U. S. Air Force C47, but helicopter crewmen who investigated said it apparently was the weathered remains of a smaller craft.

American, Italian and French search craft again widened their hunt for the C47, which vanished with 21 U. S. airmen in stormy weather on a flight Sunday from Rome to its base in Manston, England.

But parachutists were dispatched to make a detailed survey of the plane wreckage, found near the village of St. Martin about 40 miles from the Mediterranean coast.

A search plane reported sighting the wreckage in the 9,000-foot, snow clad mountains in the area where a French railway employe reported seeing a big flash of light Sunday afternoon.

Searchers were unable to confirm a report by a workman near Bastia, Corsica, that he saw a second twin-engine plane crash into the rough sea Monday afternoon.

Neither planes nor ships sent to investigate the report found any trace of wreckage.

President Gives New Ammunition To Republicans

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower passed out new pre-election ammunition to fellow Republicans Monday night in saying unemployment has dropped 400,000 to a new total of 2,700,000 below three million the first time this year.

The chief executive, increasingly active in the home stretch for continued GOP control of Congress, also focused nationwide attention on the administration in the foreign affairs field a few hours earlier through the first telecast and broadcast of a Cabinet meeting.

And reports persisted the President may take to the road again late this week to lend a personal hand once more in the campaign.

The White House described as "nonpolitical" both Monday night's TV-radio Cabinet session on the new European defense alliance against communism and the President's major speech 3½ hours later dealing in part with unemployment, a major campaign issue.

The President's discussion of the unemployment situation, theme of Democratic criticism of the administration in several congressional races, came in an address to members of the National Security Industrial Assn. in Washington.

He called 1954 "our most prosperous peacetime year in history," but added that "in certain industries and localities some unemployment still exists as the aftermath of war and inflation."

Cabinet Makes History Monday In Debut On TV

By ED CREAGH (For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nothing quite like this has been seen before in the often picturesque history of this republic.

You flipped a switch, you waited for your television screen to come alive, then there you were in the middle of a meeting between the President of the United States and his Cabinet.

The time was 7 p. m. Monday. The place was the Cabinet Room of the White House, its green walls a vague gray on the TV screen. The star—though he drew President Eisenhower into the spotlight with him—was Secretary of State Dulles.

First you saw the room itself, with its long coffin-shaped table. Next the Cabinet members filed in—all men except Secretary of Welfare Oveta Culp Hobby.

Finally, through the same door in the rear, came Dulles—back from Paris only a few hours—and the President. Eisenhower sat down, smiled, folded his hands.

"Mrs. Hobby and gentlemen . . ." he began, and the first Cabinet meeting ever to go on the air, or to be reported by newsmen on the spot, was under way.

What were the reporters and the radio microphones and the TV cameras doing there? When a request was made to open up this meeting, the President said, he decided—"for this one time"—to let all the American people hear a report of vital importance to them.

Then Dulles, his tie a little askew his fingers toying with a pencil that got lead all over them, gave his report: a story of a new spirit of Western unity flowering on the grave of the European Defense Community.

"History," said John Foster Dulles, "will not soon forget . . ." Dulles spoke fluently, rarely referring to his sheaf of notes.

Dulles wound up with a warm tribute to the President. He said the Paris and London agreements were "very largely" the result of Eisenhower's leadership. The President, in turn, praised Dulles for a "brilliant" job and said maybe all hands should give him a rising vote of thanks.

Britain's Dock Strike Unbroken

LONDON (AP)—A trickle of workers walked past jeering picket lines today but the movement failed to break the 23-day-old dock strike threatening Britain with industrial paralysis.

Arthur Deakin, head of the Giant transport and general workers union, moved quickly to exploit the first crack in the strike front. He sent squads of union officers hurrying to dock gates to urge the men to "go back to work and get on with the job."

With 43,000 men still out, the ports of London, Southampton, Hull, Liverpool, Birkenhead, Garston, Rochester and Manchester were either completely closed down or working only a few ships.

Transport union officials branded the strike unofficial and charged Communist elements were egging on the men. The stevedores union officially supported the walkout.

Air Travel Halts In Chicago Fog

CHICAGO (AP)—Heavy fog blanketed Chicago this morning, halting air travel at two big airports.

Visibility for the planes was zero at the Midway Municipal airport and at O'Hare Field. The incoming planes were detoured to Milwaukee, Detroit and Kansas City. There was considerable fog in the mid air over many sections of the Midwest early today. Scattered fog was reported eastward to the Atlantic Coast.

The weather bureau said it expected the fog to thin out later in the morning.

The Weather Bureau reported fog was widespread over many industrial centers the poor visibility was caused by a combination of fog, smoke and haze. Light winds have prevailed the last few days and have not dispersed the smoke rising from industrial plants.

Some representative visibility readings included Glenview, Ill., zero; Chicago, 1-16 mile; Grand Rapids, Mich., 1-16; Rockford, Ill., 1-8 mile; Milwaukee, 1 mile; Detroit, 1-2 mile; Indianapolis 3-4 mile; Des Moines 3-4 mile; Louisville, 4 miles; Cincinnati, 4 miles; Cleveland, 4 miles.

Threats Against Asia Reviewed In Washington

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles turned today to the problem of Communist threats to free Asia after firmly ruling out new talks now with Russia about West Germany's future.

Dulles, obviously elated at West Germany's emergence as a full Atlantic Pact partner, arranged to join President Eisenhower and the rest of the National Security Council in a special meeting at the White House.

Although the subject matter was secret, informants said it was a "good bet" Communist threats against Southern Indochina and Formosa would be reviewed along with the situation in other Asiatic trouble spots.

Russia Can't Win

With the nation looking and listening in, Dulles told Eisenhower and his Cabinet Monday night that Russia's drive to divide Western Europe's anti-Communist nations would fail. At the same time, he indicated swift American-British-French rejection of Russia's formal bid for a new round of conferences aimed at uniting Germany and arranging nationwide elections on Soviet terms.

"When we have created, as I hope we will, a position of solidarity and strength for Western Europe," the secretary of state said, "then there may be a new basis for discussion which doesn't exist at the present time."

First Cabinet Broadcast

Dulles' report will go down in history as the first broadcast and televised Cabinet meeting. Eisenhower decided to allow this, the White House said, because of the importance of last week's conference which charted West Germany's military comeback.

Dulles' words about the need for beefing up Allied strength in West Europe before new talks with Russia made it clear the United States, for one, is not impressed by Russia's newest argument—that any United Nations move to arrange step-by-step disarmament would fail as long as the West German military agreements stand.

Dulles hailed the twin diplomatic conferences for building toward a strong united Europe and paving the way for "a good partnership on both sides of the Atlantic Ocean."

Russia's continuing campaign to split the Western European Allies will fail, he predicted, adding: "This program we worked out, in fact, is going to protect Russia as much as it protects anybody else against a possible resurgence of German militarism."

Optimistically, Dulles forecast swift French ratification of the West German military agreements.

Diplomatic officials reported that Dulles' refusal to plunge into new talks with Russia about Germany apparently is backed by Britain.

Arrangements For Talbott Appearance Here Are Completed

Final preparations for the appearance in Escanaba of Harold E. Talbott, Secretary of the United States Air Force, were made at a meeting of the Escanaba Civic Committee in the House of Ludington last night. Secretary Talbott will speak on "The Strategic Air Defense of the Upper Peninsula" at a public meeting in the William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium at the Escanaba Junior High School at 8 p. m. tomorrow.

The nationally known figure will be met at the Escanaba Municipal Airport at 3 tomorrow afternoon by a reception committee of prominent citizens including Mayor Harlan J. Yelland and John D. Boyle, president of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, who will give him the official welcome to the city.

Talbott will be accompanied here by his executive assistant, Brig. Gen. W. G. Hipps, his aide Lt. Col. C. Hogan and Nelson Mead, of the Mead Corporation, Dayton, Ohio.

Public Invited
An informal reception open to the public will be held in the lobby of the House of Ludington from 5:30 to 6 p. m. This will be followed by testimonial dinner, also open to the public, at which time Mayor Yelland will deliver an address of welcome and Talbott is expected to respond briefly. The invocation will be given by the Rev. James G. Ward, of Escanaba.

Following the dinner, a parade has been arranged up Ludington Street to the Junior High School where Talbott will deliver his address in the auditorium. Scores of prominent Upper Peninsula residents as well as hundreds of persons from the Escanaba area are expected to attend this public meeting.

Gervase T. Murphy, of Calumet, widely known Upper Peninsula master of ceremonies and who has done outstanding work throughout the Central States area as a Supreme Director of the Knights of Columbus, will introduce the speaker.

Musical Entertainment
Musical entertainment at the auditorium will be provided by the Escanaba Salon Ensemble directed by Mrs. Clara J. Somers and consisting of Isadore Stein, M.S.A. Brazeau, Mrs. James Rouman, Elie DeDryver and Mr. and Mrs. Arol Beck.

In addition to those previously named, the following persons have been working with the Escanaba Civic Committee in planning Talbott's appearance here: Mmes. Charles Anspaugh, G. R. Empson, Nettie DeVet, Juel Lee, Robert Losse, John Root, Raymond E. Taylor, George C. Stuart and Miss Gloria Lee.

Talbott was particularly interested in visiting Escanaba, the committee reported, because of the vital part the Upper Peninsula plays in the nation's air defense with the Kinross jet base already in operation and work on the Sands airport jet base 40 miles north of Escanaba scheduled to start next spring.

Five Youths Held For 8 Menominee County Breakins

MENOMINEE—A crime spree that included eight Twin City burglaries in the last two weeks was marked solved early today with arrest of five Menominee County youths 15 to 17 years of age who admitted thefts at the places burglarized, reports Sheriff Edward J. Reindl. Most of the loot was recovered.

The latest burglary was at the Johnson bowling alley in Daggett which was entered by forcing a rear window. The thieves made off, through the front door, with the cash register, containing about $200. They pocketed the money and threw the register into the Little Cedar River at Stephenson, where it was recovered with a grappling hook by Reindl about 4:30 a. m. today.

Four of the youths, two from Daggett, one from Nadeau and another from Bagley, were arrested as they slept in their homes early today by Reindl and Deputy Martin Nerat. The fifth, a Stephenson youth, was arrested this morning by Deputy Joseph Feher.

The boys admitted breaking in to two service stations and the Feldstein jewelry store in Marinette, where they stole pistols, rifles and ammunition; the Robert Patterson general store at Daggett, where they stole two rifles, both of which were recovered; the Voelker service station and the Daggett High School at Daggett, the Saltz service station at Stephenson, and the Laurent service

Glass And Paint Film Shown For Kiwanians

Developments in the making of paint and glass, closely allied with everyday life, were depicted in a color motion picture shown to the Escanaba Kiwanis Club at their regular meeting Monday. Closeup views were shown of huge machines turning out plate and sheet glass, and others grinding and mixing paint ingredients. Thaxter Shaw was program chairman. Next week Judge William J. Miller will explain the aims of four special proposals to be considered by Michigan voters on their ballots Nov. 2.

Lions Honor 20-Year Men

Charter members of the Escanaba Lions Club, 15 year members and 10 year members were honored at a 20th anniversary party of the club last night at the Sherman Hotel.

C. E. Richards of Watersmeet, district governor, presented the awards to the charter members and outlined the objectives of the Lions program.

Gov. Richards emphasized that Lions Clubs are concentrating on three major activities, sight and blind work, child delinquency and world peace. He declared that there are now more Lions in the Upper Peninsula, District 10, a total of 2239, than there were in the entire Lions International in 1934 when the Escanaba Lions Club was chartered.

The 20 year members are Gust Asp, Nick Bink, A. J. Goulais, Harold Meiers, Harlan Yelland and Austin Stegaath.

The 15 year members are John Boyle, Lee Hendricks, Art Jensen, Grover Lewis, Mel Trams and Cliff Vadnais.

The 10 year members are Norman Dahlke, Stanley Johnson, Mel Oslund, Percy Rosemurgy, Fred Saykilly and Fred Schmitt.

The Salon String Ensemble presented musical selections during the dinner. Mrs. Alfred Gossan, accompanied by Mrs. J. Alton Mallman, sang two solos, "Softly As I In the Morning Sunrise" and "Key Chi, Il Bel Signo".

Miss Dreda Christman, dancing stylist and pantomimist, presented several dancing pantomimes. Dave Olive, Stephenson, deputy district governor, presented awards to the 15 year men and the 10 year men. Leonard Olson was toastmaster.

County Figures Must Be Used For School Tax

The State Tax Commission has notified Charles L. Schmidt, Escanaba city assessor, that the county equalized valuation, not the state equalized valuation, is the proper basis for the levy of school taxes in Escanaba.

The letter, from Edward W. Kane, secretary of the State Tax Commission, was in reply to a letter from Mr. Schmidt following the request of the Escanaba Board of Education for the use of the state equalized valuations for the levying of school taxes this year. The schools sought the additional funds that would be realized by using the higher state assessed valuations rather than the county equalized assessments.

Kane's letter to Schmidt follows:

Dear Mr. Schmidt:

"Your letter of Oct. 20, 1954, addressed to Mr. Louis M. Nims, Chairman of the State Tax Commission, was referred to me for reply.

Levied Seven Mills

"You state that the Allocation Board allocated seven mills in May of 1954 to the school district and that no appeal was taken and that the time limit to make an appeal has expired. Further, you state that you received a warrant to collect seven mills on $15,822.648 for school purposes, or seven mills on the county equalized valuation. However, the Board of Education of the City of Escanaba convened on Oct. 19, 1954 and requested a 1954 allocated millage on the state equalized valuation, which you have stated is $18,778.318, and I presume the figure to be correct although I have not checked it.

"You are no doubt familiar with the opinion of the attorney general dated May 20, 1954, which in brief requires the use of state equalized valuation for the levy of taxes in those counties which have taxing districts fractional in another county. However, on Sept. 27, 1954, Mr. Millard, attorney general, wrote the following letter to Mr. Charles A. Larnard, which I believe will serve to properly advise you in this instance. The letter is quote in full as follows:

Quotes Letter

"Dear Mr. Larnard:

"In answer to your letter on Sept. 30 asking the following question:

"Referring to the conclusions reached in the opinion of the attorney general, No. 1786, dated May 20, 1954, to the effect that in counties having tax districts that transcend county lines, that is, fractional school districts lying partly within and partly without the respective counties, all property in the county must be taxed for all purposes on state equalized valuations in order to get uniformity and cash value requirements in the constitution, will you kindly advise whether or not this applies only to situations where an appeal has been taken to the State Tax Commission?"

"Please be advised that the opinion was written at the request of the State Tax Commission and involved a particular set of facts on which an appeal had been made to that body. It was not intended to give instructions to any other taxing agency so the answer to your question would be decidedly "Yes"."

"From the above advice of Mr. Millard, attorney general to Mr. Larnard, it is to be concluded that the allocated millage for City of Escanaba Schools should be levied on the county equalized calculation of the school district inasmuch as there was no appeal from the order of the Delta County Tax Allocation Board and no appeal from the equalization of the county as determined by the Board of Supervisors. There was, consequently, no necessity for intervention by the State Tax Commission and therefore, the proper basis for the levy of the school taxes in Escanaba is the county equalized valuation."

Escanaba has already collected a quarter of its Community Chest quota of $12,500. The total collected in the city to date is $4,071.05. Mrs. Shirley Stoll, Chest secretary reported.

She said that the following establishments and blocks have contributed to the Chest drive recently: Sawyer and Stoll; Escanaba National Bank; State Bank of Escanaba; Northern Motor Builders; 1100 bloc, Ludington St.; Washington Ave.; 23rd St.

Shore Area Sale Before Planners

Whether the city should sell public-owned shore frontage on Lake Shore Drive opposite the Escanaba High School athletic field is a question to be considered by the Escanaba Planning Commission at a meeting to be held at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in City Hall.

It is the second time the question has been referred by the City Council to the Planning Commission with a request for a recommendation. The Council has informally indicated it favors the sale of the shore frontage for private residential development.

On Dec. 10, 1953, a similar proposal was reviewed by the Planning Commission and it was recommended that the request to sell the area for private residential development be denied.

The question has again come before the City Council and the Planning Commission because of recent complaints from adjoining property owners that water action is washing out some of the garbage dump fill on public property and depositing it on their shoreline. The Council feels that it would be costly to correct this condition and that the property should be sold.

Other business to come before the Planning Commission at its mothers and attends to the legal work involved, before finally aiding the mothers with their rehabilitation.

Consideration of the problems of parents seeking aid is the first step taken by the Society which may refer the parents to other agencies who may better assist them.

Supervising children in foster homes is one of the biggest jobs undertaken by the Society. Pre placement interviews and legal work must be done before the children are placed in foster homes. There were 1,526 days of foster care provided in Delta County from Aug. 1, 1953 to Aug. 1, 1954. The total for the Upper Peninsula was 31,043 for that period.

The tentative budget of the Michigan Children's Aid Society for the coming year has been set at $36,671. Of this amount, $5,000 is expected to come from Upper Peninsula Community Chests.

Thursday night meeting will be as follows:

Report of its recreation committee on their studies in connection with the orientation of the proposed Karas Memorial Bandshell and the relocation of Ludington Park access roads.

Recommendation on a proposal to sell city-owned dock property on Highway US-241 just north of the C&NW Railway overpass. Similar requests by Ben Yadozinski on Aug. 22, 1950, and May 13, 1954, were denied by the Planning Commission in recommendations to the City Council.

Falsies Scattered

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Harbor Freeway motorists saw a strange sight Monday — a man stooped over, picking up falsies.

The intimate, sponge-rubber appliances had toppled off a truck and bounced out onto the busy freeway. One motorists who slowed up to give the unidentified truck driver a chance to retrieve the scores of falsies observed: "That's worse than having a flat."

Sec'y Talbott Will Have Message Of Interest To Upper Peninsula

THE public appearance in Escanaba Wednesday evening of Secretary of Air Harold E. Talbott is an occasion for local citizens to pay honor to a man who holds one of the most important positions

Words, Wit & Wisdom
By William Morris

A few weeks ago I noted briefly in this space that the two longest monosyllables in English are reported to be "stretched" and "screached"—each being nine letters long—and suggested that you readers try to find a longer one-syllable word. As so often happens, the mail response to this casual suggestion was far greater than the response to my weightier and more profound observations—thus happily shattering any delusions of grandeur I might be developing.

No correspondent has yet produced a ten-letter monosyllable but several have noted that there are many others nine letters long. The most detailed discussion of this point comes from Willis T. Newton, who writes "I'm afraid I cannot top the two words you cite so far as the number of letters is concerned . . . However, there are a considerable number of others quite as long.

"Examples are scratched, scrounged, scrunched, splotted and squelched, all ending in "-ed." At least two others ending "-s" come to mind—straights and strengths. There are a number of others if we wish to include dialectal and Scots forms, such as scrinched, scrooched, squenched and its variant squinched, and the Scots word slatched."

Many thanks, Mr. Newton, for this dazzling display of erudition! If it serves to send many of us to our unabridged dictionaries to look up "squinch" and "slatch," your contribution will prove enlightening as well as entertaining.

Incidentally, my correspondent shares with the late Alexander Woolcott and Ring Lardner a penchant for unusual residence names. Woolcott, you recall, named his island retreat "Wit's End," while Lardner date-lined his last pieces for the NEW YORKER magazine—written while he was bedridden—"No Visitors, N. Y."

Well, Mr. Newton, who hails from Descanso, California, writes from a residence intriguingly labeled, "Okay d' Oak."

Are you turning with the times—hep to the latest jive rattle? Whether you're a teen-ager or the puzzled parent of a jive-wacky juvenile, you'll find amusement and enlightenment in THE REAL GONE LEXICON, first comprehensive collection of today's teen-talk. For your free copy, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to William Morris, in care of this newspaper.

in the United States government. At the same time, it is an opportunity to hear a message of vital importance to this area. "The Strategic Air Defense of the Upper Peninsula."

A study of a global map will show that the Upper Peninsula of Michigan is one of the key spots in America in air defense. We are on a direct air route from Russian Siberia to New York City.

Authorities long have believed that a sneak attack by an enemy aimed at this country will be launched from the Arctic Circle. In all probability that would carry the route of the enemy bombers over some portion of Michigan's Upper Peninsula as an entry point into this country.

Also, the Upper Peninsula has one of the most important strategic targets in the event of an air strike—the Soo Locks, lifeline to steel production.

These are reasons why residents of the Upper Peninsula should be vitally interested in what Secretary Talbott has to say about plans of the U. S. Air Force for the air defense of the U. S. Peninsula.

There is now a fast growing air base at Kinross, in the "lower end" of the Upper Peninsula. Another air base is being developed at the Sands airport, near Marquette. It is probable that Sec'y Talbott will discuss these developments in his address at Escanaba Wednesday night.

Rarely does the Upper Peninsula have the opportunity to visit personally with members of the top level governmental authorities. Secretary Talbott has honored this community by accepting this appointment to speak in Escanaba. We trust that he will be greeted by a capacity audience at the Wm. Oliver auditorium Wednesday evening.

Questions and Answers

Q—What broadcasting practice was inaugurated by radio station WSB in Atlanta?

A—It was the first radio station to have regular nightly programs, and the first to use a broadcasting slogan, "The Voice of the South."

Q—What was the actual date of George Washington's birth?

A—Feb. 11, 1732. But his birthday now falls on the 22nd because, after Washington's birth, the calendar was revised.

Q—When and where was the first representative government created in America?

A—At Jamestown Va., in 1619.

Q—When did the great electrical wizard, Dr. Steinmetz die?

A—This famous electrical engineer died in 1923. He was credited with more than a hundred electrical inventions and his most dramatic experiment was the creation of man-made lightning.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON—There's a lot of bunkum being handed the American people today by speakers on the Democratic side, starting with former President Truman—particularly the idea that the Republicans haven't handled the unemployment problem the way they should.

The record, however, of unemployment figures since the turn of the century shows that the Democratic administrations have never been able to produce high employment except by going to war.

It was World War II which saved the Roosevelt administration from the worst record of unemployment the nation has ever experienced, and it was the Korean war which saved the Truman administration as well.

Back in 1949, when the nation suffered a recession quite comparable to the one experienced earlier this year, there were 3,800,000 persons out of work as compared with 3,100,000 this year. But Mr. Truman, who was president then, wasn't calling it a calamity nor advocating the unsound measures which he and his associates in the Democratic party have been urging lately. Here is what Mr. Truman had to say in his midyear economic report of July 1949:

"The number of unemployed in June was 3.8 million, and acute unemployment problems have developed in certain localities . . . The decline in industrial production was rapid, and by June had reached 13 per cent below last fall's peak . . . Farm income was about 8 per cent below the first half of 1948."

NO EMERGENCY

Did Mr. Truman, in spite of that evidence, call for emergency measures? Did he deal "boldly" with unemployment? He says now the Eisenhower administration has been "standing idly by, waiting for a miracle while millions are jobless." But here is the way Mr. Truman expressed himself in that same 1949 report when 3,800,000 were jobless:

"These facts show that our economy is still operating at high levels of employment and production. The kind of government action that would be called for in a serious economic emergency would not be appropriate now."

"The economic situation does not now call for an immediate and sweeping expansion of public works . . ."

"No changes in the tax laws which would result in a larger net loss in revenues would be justified at this time."

" . . . it is desirable to recognize clearly that the objective of farm support prices is to maintain an adequate level of farm income and promote shifts in lines of agricultural production which will encourage an increase in the total domestic consumption of farm products."

This sounds exactly as if the Eisenhower administration had written it, with the exception that there has been a tax reduction and it has not resulted in any serious loss of revenue over-all. But the above sentences did not bring forth from Democrats at the time any charge that the man in the White House had "no heart for the little fellow" and was only concerned about "big business."

KOREAN WAR BOOM

The truth of the matter is that the Democratic administration didn't get out of the unemployment hole it was in during 1949 until Mr. Truman intervened in Korea in 1950. Then came the war boom in business. Unemployment went down from 5.4 per cent, which was what it was in 1949—about the same as today—to 4.9 in 1950 and then 2.9 in 1951. It went even lower—down to 2.6 in 1952.

After the Korean war was ended under the Eisenhower administration, unemployment went back to 5 per cent, which is what it is during the present period of readjustment.

The figures show that the Democratic administration was not able to pull out of the doldrums in the '30's except by a war boom. Thus, in 1933, when the United States felt the disastrous effects of a worldwide depression, the percentage of persons unemployed went to the highest on record—namely, 24.9 per cent. Six years later, after all the hullabaloo about the New Deal and its leaf-raking WPA and other unsound measures, the percentage of unemployed was still 17.2, or about 9,480,000 persons without jobs.

It was not until 1942, after America entered World War II, that the percentage of unemployed came down to 4.7 per cent from the previous year's 9.9 per cent, or 5,560,000 persons idle.

Can America get a balanced economy with a minimum of unemployment without entering a war and suffering casualties of American youth? On the record, it shows that the Democrats have not been able to do it, but the Republicans have. That's why the voter has to think twice about the propaganda being handed him. For the Eisenhower administration, with less unemployed today than Mr. Truman had in 1949, has achieved something most unusual for peacetime. The prospect, moreover, as the fourth quarter of business indicates, is for less and less unemployment—and no more war either.

Mendes Aides Sidetrack Probe Of French Defense Data Leaks

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—(NEA)—France's super-secret National Defense Committee met again last May 26 in the President's Elysee Palace to plot strategy in Indo-China.

Dien Bien Phu had fallen two weeks earlier. The military situation of the French Expeditionary force in Indo-China - partly through treachery and in part through incompetence—was growing desperate.

In France itself a growing chorus of assorted neutralists and out-right traitors led by the Communist Party were increasingly demanding France's capitulation to Russia and Red China.

Former Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, a staunch friend of the U. S., was a friend and adviser of the new Premier long before Mendes-France came to power following his spectacular "settlement" of the war in Indo-China.

Servan - Schreiber also visited the U. S. several years ago—as a guest of the American government. He was wine and dined by the State Department and treated to a grand tour of the country. But he returned to France more anti-U. S. than ever.

The new leak occurred while Joseph Laniel, Mendes - France's predecessor, was still Premier. Laniel's Minister of Interior, Leon Martinand-Deplat, and Paris' energetic Prefect of Police, Jean Baylot, immediately ordered an investigation. Copies of L'Express with General Ely's report were seized by the police.

Inspector Jean Dides—now denounced by Servan-Schreiber as a member of the Fascist Cagoulards (Hooded Men)—was assigned to the case.

However, before he got very far with the investigation Premier Laniel was succeeded by Mendes-France, who also took over Bidault's job of Foreign Minister.

Francois Mitterand, another leftist politician, replaced Leon Martinand-Deplat as Minister of Interior.

Mitterand's first act in office was to fire Police Chief Baylot, strongly pro-American and anti-Red—the "terror of the Communists."

Next he demoted Inspector Dides to the non-political job of Police Commissioner of the Port of Paris.

At the same time, Premier Mendes-France and one of his top advisers, Georges Boris, began a widespread purge of anti-Communist and pro-American officials in the Foreign Ministry. The first victim was Jean Lerois, an expert on the Iron Curtain countries.

The investigation of defense leaks started by former Premier Laniel's Minister of Interior was completely sidetracked.

Nothing more was heard about the government's case against Servan-Schreiber and L'Express.

Edson In Washington

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
(Peter Edson is on vacation.)

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — Because the Senate and House of Representatives can't agree on who should be the next comptroller general, the ripest patronage plum in town has gone begging for months.

And the report is that Ike, impatient with the delay, would like to strike a blow for the career government workers and give the job to Frank H. Weitzel, the acting comptroller who has come up through the ranks.

The comptroller general is boss of the General Accounting Office which is an arm of Congress created to be the final judge on whether the executive agencies spend their money legally.

To isolate the job from politics as much as possible it was made a presidential appointment and provided with a salary of $17,500 per year for a 15-year term. A recent change in the law permitted the former comptroller, Lindsay Warren, to resign last April, because of ill health, before the end of his term and continue to receive the same salary.

AN APPOINTMENT to the Supreme Court is about the only job you can get with Uncle Sam which is that good.

Ike's apparent decision to forego naming a comptroller, and let Congress decide who should have the job, has created the present stalemate.

It's no secret that the House wants Rep. Sterling Cole (R., N. Y.), chairman of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, to have the job. And the Senate has selected its secretary, Mark Trice as its candidate.

For a few weeks, recently, it looked like a compromise had been reached and that Sen. Frederick G. Payne (R., Me.) would get the job. But reverberations from the Maine election upset apparently changed that deal. Now it's back to the Trice-Cole deadlock with Weitzel moving up fast on the outside, according to reports.

Weitzel has a career and personality strikingly similar to that of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Weitzel who is 47 years old—and looks less—and J. Edgar Hoover are both natives of the District of Columbia. Both began working for the government after finishing high school and attended George Washington University Law School at night for a period before going full time to be graduated from there.

WEITZEL STARTED WITH GAO as a $15-a-week messenger. He was nicknamed "Zev" at that time, after the speedy race horse of that day. Hoover had the nickname "Speed" when he first started with the government.

Today both men share a deeply religious strain, are fervently devoted to their jobs and are dedicated to maintaining the integrity of their agencies. Both men are recognized as tops in their fields.

About the only difference between them is that Weitzel is a family man and Hoover is a bachelor.

By the time Warren became comptroller in 1940 Weitzel had established himself as the fair-haired career boy of GAO. During the next 13 years Warren grew to rely on Weitzel's energy, ability and judgement more and more, until Weitzel the logical man to take over when Warren bowed out.

WEITZEL'S CONTRIBUTION TO the prestige of GAO has been significant. He improved the working relations between the GAO and Congress and ironed out most of the difficulties GAO was having with the executive agencies.

It was largely Weitzel's efforts which brought the mushrooming federal corporations like the Reconstruction Finance Corp., Home Owners Loan Corp., and Commodity Credit Corp., under the standard government auditing system, thereby giving the President improved control over their operations.

Support for Weitzel for the top GAO job is mounting within the cabinet because of the great help he has given every agency in achieving the GOP pledge of greater economy and efficiency. He has worked closely with Department of Defense and the Post Office since becoming acting comptroller in helping them get on a more businesslike basis through improved accounting controls.

The hard core of career government administrators is especially hopeful that Ike will give the job to Weitzel. It would be a boost to their morale generally to learn that a career employee can get to the top under a Republican administration. And they like to work with Weitzel because they get along with him.

In the musical play, "By the Beautiful Sea," Shirley Booth makes a balloon ascension from Steeplechase Park in Coney Island and parachutes back to terra firma. The incident has no basis in actual fact. Mr. Tilyou, who ran Steeplechase Park in those good old days, would never have paid his good money for a spectacle that could be seen just as well by gawkers outside the Park as ticket holders within. Frank Farrell recalls the day Tilyou hired March King John Philip Sousa and his band for the then-unheard-of fee of $1,000 a day. The experiment was a floperoo—because the music could be heard perfectly well on the beach and boardwalk outside. So Tilyou signed up the Floradora Sextette as a spicely co-attraction. No one could get a satisfactory eyeful of those curves from out in the wide blue yonder! The turnstiles at Steeplechase Park were soon ringing out a merry tune, and peace and prosperity reigned once more in Coney Island.

The Doctor Says . . .

Family Friction Can Lead To Emotional Instability

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Some years ago a frantic father brought his 15-year-old son to see me. Evidently the boy had been misbehaving and more or less as a last resort the father thought there might be some physical condition responsible.

The boy was sullen, uncommunicative and obviously appeared in the doctor's office only because he was forced to do so. The father was extremely upset and constantly spoke sharply to the boy.

There was nothing physically wrong with the youngster and his mental reaction so far as one could tell by conversation, was perfectly normal. It did not, however, take long to tell what was wrong and I discussed it with both father and son together.

FIRST, I POINTED out to the father that a 15-year-old boy was no longer a babe-in-arms nor even a small child and could not be ordered around as he had been when younger. The father had evidently been raised in the old school where the father's word was law and expected his teen-age son to obey his every word without question. In other words the father had not been able to adjust himself gradually to the growing maturity and outside interests of his son.

The boy, on the other hand, completely lacked any understanding of his father. He failed to realize that the father was picking on him all the time because of the father's love for his son and desire that he should develop into a fine upstanding man. This was apparently a new idea to the boy; his eyes widened to the thought that his father would cut off his own right hand if it would help the son!

I HOPE THAT the conversation may have meant the beginning of a new understanding between father and son and the gradual development of a more happy relationship. Both needed to understand the other better and both needed an increased respect for the individuality, thoughts, and problems of the other.

In varying degrees this kind of problem affects almost all fathers and sons. It is difficult for others, in many cases, to adjust themselves to the gradual change from completely dependent babyhood to mature adult. The relief of parental authority and the assumption of the role of adult companions should come slowly. It is frequently even more difficult for mothers to make these necessary adjustments with their sons—or their daughters either.

WHAT HAS ALL of this to do with health? Constant family friction can certainly lead to emotional instability. This in turn may bring about many ills which are recognized as being greatly affected by the emotions. Furthermore it is not just physical health which counts in life but also one's attitude toward it. I often wonder if those who "worry themselves sick" have not been subjected to exceptional emotional strains and conflicts during youth. If some of these conflicts such as the problem of father and son relationship can be properly solved we should have a healthier adult population.

Foes And Backers On Proposal No. 4 Of Bingo Battling

LANSING (AP) — The shrill cry "bingo" is heard in the land again this fall—but this time it comes from the mouths of campaigners and not from the gent on the platform with the turkey under his arm.

In Michigan this fall the proponents and opponents of bingo are battling in full force with newspaper, radio, television, platform and word of mouth advertising to pass or defeat a proposal to legalize bingo.

Actually, and technically, the issue is not bingo but legalized lotteries. However, the issue was drawn by those most interested in bingo and proposal No. 4 on the ballot has become known as the bingo proposal.

Lottery, Says Court
The Michigan State Supreme Court has held that bingo is a lottery. The state's 1907 constitution says flatly: "The Legislature shall not authorize any lottery nor permit the sale of lottery tickets."

The dictionary says that a lottery is "a scheme for the distribution of prizes by lot or chance." So bingo is illegal in Michigan.

It has been illegal since 1907, at least. But it was played widely and openly until about two years ago under a gentlemen's agreement that local law enforcement officials would not bother it if the local people wanted it and the state would not step in unless bingo fell into the hands of commercial gamblers.

So bingo was generally the game of small church, fraternal and veterans groups, some of whom also conducted plain lotteries—that is, the sale of tickets giving you a chance to win a new car or television set.

Up To Legislature
The law's crackdown fell first on bingo in Detroit two years ago and spread rapidly across the state. Unable to restore the "gentlemen's agreement" except in isolated areas, bingo players organized the Michigan Association of Non-Profit Charitable Organizations and set about obtaining a constitutional amendment to restore their game.

They succeeded, over many legal and financial hurdles, in obtaining enough signatures to put the proposal on this fall's ballot.

The proposal is to broaden the anti-lottery ban in the constitution to legalize "subject to statutory limitations" lotteries conducted by or lottery tickets sold by non-profit charitable organizations, as defined by law.

"Subject to statutory limitations" and "defined by law" means that the Legislature shall decide what type of lotteries are legal, shall define "non-profitable charitable organizations," and shall prescribe the method of controlling this form of gambling.

Parties Keep Hands Off
There has been no decision as to what limitations the Legislature would enact. The Legislature is waiting to learn whether the people approve of the change first.

With both political parties keeping hands off the issue, the protagonists in the fight are the bingo group's association and the Michigan and Detroit Councils of Churches, which oppose bingo on the ballot.

Charles R. McLean of Lansing, counsel for the association, says it is composed of local chapters of the American Legion, Disabled American Veterans, Catholic War Veterans, Jewish War Veterans, the Moose, Elks, Eagles and Odd Fellows lodges, the Detroit Firemen's Fund, Letter Carriers' Association, Townsend Clubs, American pension clubs, conservation leagues and similar groups.

The president is Edward MacLaughlin of Merrill, a representative of the Moose lodge and houseware salesman. He has not denied reports that he sells bingo prizes, but reportedly only does so on a small scale.

McLean says the officers have watched their county units closely to keep out the infiltration of men or money from bingo prize salesmen, commercial interests or racketeers. He said the association expected trouble from these sources, but has had none.

SAAR—AREA OF INDUSTRIAL MIGHT AND STRIFE—The Saar, rich coal mining and steel producing area (shaded river valley shown on above Newsmag) has been a source of friction between France and Germany since 1870. Although governed autonomously it is in the French occupation zone. The Saarlanders are bound to France by an economic union much to the dissatisfaction of Germany. To break the "log jam" the Western allies want to "Europeanize" the area in which both countries would yield part of their claims. This is imperative if West Germany is to be brought into NATO and the new Brussels Treaty Organization. The main problems are political. Germany wants pro-German parties in the Saar to be able to participate in free elections. The French oppose free elections, fearing the resurgence of German nationalism if pro-German parties are allowed to campaign in the Saar. France also demands precautions against the Saar again becoming a part of Germany. Boxes on map give comparative steel and coal production of France, Germany and the Saar.

$125 ZENITH HEARING AID BETTER BUY THAN AIDS AVERAGING $268!

SCIENTIFIC TESTS PROVE that the Zenith—priced at less than 1/2 as much—offers equivalent performance for 1/2 the average operating and upkeep cost!

ZENITH has always said you can pay up to $300 or more but you can't buy a finer hearing aid than a Zenith. To support this statement, Zenith requested the United States Testing Company to purchase on the open market two Zenith Hearing Aids and two of each of America's five foremost competitive brands of transistor hearing aids, and to test them thoroughly.

Each of the instruments was subjected to a series of rigorous tests for quality, performance and economy. The results, contained in Report No. E-9158, dated September 13, 1954, tell us:

- Despite the huge difference in price, U. S. Testing Company reported, "The Zenith 'Royal-T' was equal to the other 5 brands in design, choice of materials and components, and in workmanship."
- Here's how Zenith compared with the average of the other five brands in bringing you a full measure of acoustic power performance:

Acoustic output	ZENITH	OTHERS
135.5 db.	132 db.
Maximum acoustic gain	64 db.	60.8 db.
Earphone acoustic output	131 db.	131.1 db.
- The 3-transistor Zenith "Royal-T" cost $18.93 less to operate per year than the average of the other aids tested.
- The Zenith "Royal-T" registered less objectionable noise due to clothing rub than any of the other five brands.

- Based on a five-year overall cost projection—involving initial price, battery replacements, etc.—the $125 Zenith "Royal-T" will serve you for substantially less than 1/2 the cost of the average competitive aid.

You can try the "Royal-T" at home, work, church, theatre, anywhere, on Zenith's famous 10-Day Money-Back Guarantee. One tiny 15¢ battery operates the "Royal-T" for 30 days.

And here's important news! Zenith has recently introduced the smallest, lightest hearing aid in its history—the tiny, tubeless, 3-transistor "Royal-M." Only $100! Same power and performance as the "Royal-T." Prices include air conduction receiver and stock earmold.

FREE BOOKLET GIVES TEST FACTS!
The results of these tests conducted by the United States Testing Company are so important to the hard-of-hearing that we have prepared a free booklet giving pertinent details. It may save you or a friend $150 or more!

PITTSFIELD, Maine (AP)—Thirteen sisters gained a brother Sunday and lost their claim on being the nation's largest all-girl family. Leslie Benjamin Brooks, 6 pounds, 8 ounces, crossed up some of the plans when he was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brooks at their Snake Root Rd. farmhouse. But he got a warm welcome nonetheless from the 39-year-old couple and the 13 Brooks daughters, aged 1 1/2 to 16.

"Now that I have a boy I hope it will be the end," said Brooks, a $50-a-week truck driver. "We'll love him just as much as the girls," his wife declared. A blue blanket was found in which to swath the newborn but, as his surprised sister Eunice, 16, pointed out, "Oh, dear! All his clothes will be pink." The Brooks family had mustered a layette in pink for the expected arrival of girl No. 14.

Recording Stirs Illinois Campaign

CHICAGO (AP)—The political tempest over a recorded 1952 speech is blowing this way and both Gov. Stratton and Joseph D. Lohman are girding for battle.

Lohman, Democratic candidate for Cook County sheriff, told newsmen Monday he will attend a conference set for Wednesday by the Republican governor, adding he intends to expose the "Stratton Wire Hoax."

Stratton has invited the managing editors of the Chicago newspapers to hear the recording at the Wednesday conference in Chicago and said he will ask for an apology and Lohman's resignation as a candidate at that time.

Lohman however, claims that a tape-recording by Lohman was a "doctored" version of his address. Lohman accused the governor of perpetrating "a criminal hoax."

Stratton played a recording at a news conference in Springfield last week and a voice, which the governor identified as Lohman's, made the observation "that police officers have a disproportionately high number of wives who were formerly prostitutes."

Lohman challenged the accuracy of the recording. He said remarks were taken out of context, switched from their normal order in the original speech and created an improper impression. The speech was made in 1952 when Lohman was chairman of the Illinois Pardon and Parole Board.

President Tells Of 400,000 Drop In Unemployment

can foresee that in less than a decade the national output will increase from today's 356 billion dollars to 500 billion. This would equal an average increase of more than $3,000 for every American family of today.

He called for an end to "the rash of fears that for so long have haunted some of us—fear of war, fear of unemployment, fear of ourselves, fear of the future," and added:

"Certainly, we know now that one such fear—fear of a paralyzing depression—can be safely laid away."

"Our people have more personal income after taxes than ever before. Our national production surpasses even the war peak year of 1944. It is far above the levels of 1945 through 1952."

The President said "chaos and economic despair" have been avoided because, for one reason, "taxes were cut" by $7,400,000,000 during his administration.

And he declared—as he has several times during the campaign—"We must continue to reduce the cost of government so we can have more tax cuts."

Looking again to the future, Eisenhower said the "most important" thought he wanted to leave with Americans "is that only when we win the struggle for permanent peace can we devote the full power of this mighty country of ours to the advancement of human happiness."

Report Jumps Gun

In his announcement of the new jobs total, the President jumped the gun on the normal government timetable for such reports. Since the present system of a joint report by the Labor and Commerce departments was instituted last May, the figures for each month have been issued between the 7th and 10th of the following month. In this case, that would have delayed the announcement until after next week's elections.

The Bureau of Standards' electronic brain, called Univac, was reported to have worked throughout the weekend to get the report ready for Eisenhower's announcement last night.

At the earlier precedent-setting telecast and broadcast of the Cabinet meeting at the White House, the President listened intently—doodling occasionally on a scratch pad—as Secretary of State Dulles reported to him, fellow Cabinet officers and the nation at large on the European defense alliance agreements signed at Paris last Saturday.

Dulles predicted ratification of the agreements by the signatory countries' parliaments, and he forecast failure for Soviet attempts to smash the new defense plan.

Duck And Count 5 If A-Bomb Strikes

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

CINCINNATI, (AP)—Here's an A-bomb or H-bomb survival tip:

If you see or sense a sudden brilliant or blinding flash of light—duck and count slowly to five.

If you reach five, you have survived. Then take stock. If you have the customary number of fingers, legs and other body parts, if you can hear, and aren't bleeding badly anywhere or bleeding from the nose or ears, you probably have nothing to worry about.

It will mean you haven't been hit at all, or significantly, by the three killers in thermonuclear weapons. The three are radiation—including X-rays and neutrons—heat or fire, and the blast wave. The blast wave itself, and objects like bricks, stones and glass sent flying by the blast, could be lethal.

Counting off the five seconds will mean you were at least a mile from the heart or center of the atomic bomb. It takes five seconds for the sound or blast waves to travel a mile. And at a mile distance, you probably won't get any significant amount of radiation.

This rough formula was given today by Col. Harvey C. Slocum at the annual meeting of the American Society of Anesthesiologists. Slocum is professional consultant in anesthesiology to the surgeon general, and chief of anesthesiology and operative service of Walter Reed Army Hospital, Washington, D. C.

It applies to A-bombs such as exploded over Japan and can apply to H-bombs too. For much of Volume was moderate and maintained a pace around the two-million-share level. Monday's total in a falling market was 2,340,366 shares.

The aircraft were down at the start while the steels acted better. Airlines were brought up by a substantial gain in United Air Lines which followed a report that third quarter earnings came to $2.32 a share as compared with $1.51 a year ago.

Among higher stocks were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Anaconda Copper, Royal Dutch Petroleum, American Airlines, DuPont, Glenn Martin, Oliver Corp. and Radio Corp.

Lower were Southern Railway, Standard Oil (NJ), and Olin-Matheson, which traded a block of 5,000 shares at 48 1/2 off 3/4.

The bond market was quietly lower. U. S. government issues in the over the counter market were easy.

Luis Rubens, 57 Claimed By Death

Louis (Percy) Rubens, 57, died today at 1 a. m. at the home of his sister, Mrs. James Fisher, 507 S. 11th St.

Born June 27, 1897 at Escanaba, he lived here all his life except for the time he served in the Army during World War I. Mr. Rubens was proprietor of Rubens Ambulance Service until his retirement eight years ago.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. James Fisher; a brother, Jack Rubens, Midland, Mich., and several nieces and nephews.

Friends may call at the Alto Funeral Home beginning Wednesday afternoon.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 9:30 a. m. at the Alto Funeral Home chapel with Rev. Francis Hollenbach of St. Patrick's Church officiating. Burial will be made in Holy Cross Cemetery.

First Edition Of Garden School Paper Is Issued

GARDEN—The first issue of the Garden School paper, "The Peninsulan," was distributed to the students and advertisers Friday. It is hoped that this year the paper will serve as an even better medium of informing the community of work that is being done by the school than it has in the past few years.

A special section of the paper has been devoted to news from each class, office news and a school sports section.

Cloudbursts Kill 125, Crush Homes In Salerno, Italy

beneath the wreckage of collapsed homes.

In the Salerno area, 58 bodies have been counted. Another 38 are hospitalized in serious condition. Up to 100 are missing but most of these are believed safe.

On the Amalfi coast, 15 bodies have been recovered at Maiori and 3 at Minori.

Hardest hit was Salerno, known to tens of thousands of former American soldiers because it was here that the Allies stormed the Italian mainland in a bloody World War II battle.

In Rome, the Ministry of Interior said first reports indicate the toll may be the highest of any Italian floods in recent history.

Polio Takes Second Salk Test Victim

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—The Second polio death among the 50,000 Michigan children who participated in the Salk vaccine tests last summer was reported Monday in Battle Creek.

The child, Calhoun County's third polio victim of the year, was Becky Kay Nicholls, 8.

It will not be known until next spring whether Becky was given the actual vaccine or a neutral control substance. That is when researchers at the University of Michigan will announce results of the nationwide Salk tests.

Cunard Resident Dies Fighting Fire On Farm

CUNARD—Fire starting from friction during straw cutting operations destroyed a large frame barn and caused the death of Arthur Carl Lindgren, 55, of Cunard, who died of a heart attack at the fire at 11:15 a. m. Saturday.

Lindgren and a helper were cutting straw for cattle bedding, with a tractor outside of the barn furnishing belt power for a cutter inside of the barn. Observers said straw being cut suddenly caught fire and ignited straw piles in the barn. In minutes the entire barn was ablaze.

Lindgren and his sister, Helen, operated the 120-acre farm. They had 18 head of cattle in pasture at the time of the fire, and two calves in pens in the barn. The calves were lost in the fire, along with all the farm machinery except the tractor and a plow which was in the field for fall plowing. The Lindgrens had some insurance, but the loss was not fully covered.

Churchill Rejects Russian Bid For Talk On German Unification

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill today rejected a Russian proposal for Big Four talks next month on German unification.

He told the House of Commons this was not the moment to enter into such talks with the Russians while Western parliaments still have to ratify the London and Paris agreements calling for a re-armed and sovereign West Germany.

He made the statement in answer to questioning by leftwing Laborite Aneurin Bevan.

Cookies Form Base For Dessert

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
THIS REFRIGERATOR DESSERT is glamorous looking but it's homey, too. For it is all tricked out with Oatmeal Ginger Cookies that are crisp, spicy and full of old-fashioned flavor.

We made this dessert after lunch one day; by dinnertime its cream filling was set, the cookies still crisp.

You won't use all the Oatmeal Ginger Cookies you make for this refrigerator dessert, so put them in a tightly covered container and they'll stay crunchy.

REFRIGERATOR GINGER DESSERT
Ingredients: 2 envelopes gelatin, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 cups cream, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoons ginger, 3 eggs (separated), 1 cup cream, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1/2 cup sugar, Oatmeal Ginger Cookies.

Method: Sprinkle gelatin over water to soften. Heat milk, 1/2 cup sugar, salt and ginger in double boiler over simmering water. Beat egg yolks well; stir a little of the hot milk mixture into the beaten egg yolks; return to milk mixture, stirring constantly. Cook and stir constantly over simmering water until thickened. (Make sure water in lower part of double-boiler does not touch bottom of upper part of double boiler.) Remove from heat and stir in softened gelatin until dissolved. Chill until custard starts to set; beat with rotary beater until smooth. Whip cream and fold into custard with vanilla. Beat egg whites with cream of tartar until foamy; beat in 1/2 cup sugar, a tablespoon at a time, until stiff and glossy; fold into whipped cream and custard mixture. Place large oatmeal ginger cookie on bottom of a 7-inch spring form pan (1 1/2 quart capacity). Line sides of spring form pan with some of the rectangular cookies facing topside of cookies toward outside. Pour custard mixture into pan. Crush a few extra cookies and sprinkle crumbs over top of dessert. Refrigerate until set — four hours or longer.

OATMEAL GINGER COOKIES
Ingredients: 2 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 cup shortening (soft), 3/4 cup firmly-packed brown sugar, 1/2 cup molasses, 1 egg, 1 cup uncooked rolled oats (quick or old-fashioned).

Method: Sift together flour, salt, baking soda, cinnamon, ginger and nutmeg into bowl. Add shortening, sugar, molasses and egg; beat until smooth, about 2 minutes. Stir in rolled oats. Chill if desired before rolling. Roll dough out on lightly floured board to about 1/8 inch thickness. Cut one large round cookie slightly smaller than bottom of a 7-inch round spring-form pan. Cut remaining dough into rectangles about 1 1/4 by 3 inches. Place on greased cookie sheets. Bake in a moderate (350F) oven 10 to 12 minutes. Remove from cookie sheets and cool on wire racks.

INDIA, U. S. TRADE EVEN

Youth Has Clean Slate And Pockets

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—The judge dismissed a car theft charge against a 20-year-old Chicago youth who said he wanted to enter military service with a clean slate.

After gaining his freedom, William J. Thigpen told Federal Judge W. Wallace Kent he lacked the fare to report for scheduled induction in Chicago. Court attaches promptly took up a collection and bought him a ticket home.

Long Flight Has Happy Landing

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—An ambulance skidded to a stop with a flat tire.

A sheriff's car sped the interne to his patient. The interne, Dr. Charles Miller, found the patient needed immediate hospitalization and phoned for another ambulance. But before it arrived, farmer David Lydy, 55, walked up and said he had changed the ambulance tire. And Dr. Miller rushed off with his patient.

Stolen Fire Engine Found Deep In Woods

TOWNSEND, Mass. (AP)—Thomas Walker, 21, was accused of larceny—the larceny of a 14-ton, bright red fire engine.

The town's only engine was taken Sunday, its bells clanging and siren screaming from the fire station.

Fire chief Ormsby heard the engine and called police when he learned it wasn't headed to a fire.

After a four-hour search police found the fire engine deep in woods in nearby Ashby.

Walker was arrested in a house not far away.

Handled Car Wrong Way And Is Fined

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The battery in Harold Davis' car failed, and friend Donald Parrish started pushing, walking along on the driver's side. Suddenly the motor caught, and the car jerked forward. Parrish leaped onto a fender, then crawled onto the hood as the car gained speed.

Davis' vision was impaired because Parrish was sitting in front of him and he sideswiped a car. Davis was fined $10 for reckless driving and Parrish $9 for "sitting on the hood."

Two Daylight Holdups Foiled

CLIFTON FORGE, Va. (AP)—Cashier Curtis M. Brown thwarted two daring daylight attempts to rob the First National Bank here but says he can't be certain that the two would-be robbers were the same.

The first time Brown pulled a small hand from a fishbowl filled with pennies in the lobby and told the five-year-old owner to "scram." Shortly afterward he gave another robber the heave-ho, but this one was wearing a blue handkerchief mask.

ELECT DON LEONARD

It's time for a NEW LOOK in MICHIGAN GOVERNMENT

Courageous Leader
Brilliant Organizer

Distinguished Administrator
Experienced State Servant

SOUTH HAVEN DAILY TRIBUNE:
"The people have a way of learning the truth. All during his official career, Mr. Leonard has shown himself to be a man of integrity and character. That's what the people were able to distinguish. Go to it Don!"

FROM A WOMEN'S CLUB:
"Our members feel that you, as a family man, have a significant appreciation of the needs of Michigan's young families. We believe that your experience and future-minded viewpoint will give us the sound administration Michigan needs."

BATTLE CREEK RECORD AND LAKEVIEW NEWS:
"It is an unhealthy situation when the governor is beholden to any group whether it be farmers, school people, business men or labor... no one has any strings on Leonard."

THE GRAND RAPIDS HERALD:
"Michigan's 1954 gubernatorial campaign, thanks to the vigorous and forthright Republican nominee, Donald S. Leonard, promises to be the most productive in years—in issues debated and specious claims laid bare... The Governor is trying to claim everything in sight and the claims are being answered by a straight talking, hard hitting challenger. On all counts so far Mr. Leonard has the best of it."

MICHIGAN DAILY:
"Now after an absence of six years from the governorship it appears that the Republican party has found a real potential and successful standard-bearer for Governor."
—United Press Dispatch

BENTON HARBOR NEWS PALLADIUM:
"The people are weary of extravagant promises that are never fulfilled. Leonard's proved that he possesses qualities far exceeding 'glamor.' That he possesses character and fidelity is unquestioned. These are fundamental qualities that are part of true leadership and inspire confidence."

FROM AN INDEPENDENT VOTER:
"I'm going to vote for you first because I know you have no strings attached to your candidacy—no commitments to any group—and second, because your record shows you have what it takes—ability, integrity and experience!"

DETROIT FREE PRESS:
"It is encouraging that the people... make the decisions in this State. Despite years of public service, Mr. Leonard is not a politician in the accepted sense of the term. His success at the polls indicates that he drew heavily from the independents."

HIS PRINCIPLES

Donald S. Leonard's political creed:

- "Nothing that is morally wrong can be politically right."
- "Problems of state government can best be solved by bringing everyone together to work as a team."
- "The Governor's office must be operated for ALL the people, not for selfish pressure groups."
- "Always tell the citizens the whole truth—even though it hurts!"
- "Never relax in the fight against un-American groups."

HIS RECORD

For 30 years he has given the people of Michigan the kind of "down to earth" public service they want—as an organizer, administrator and leader.

Commissioner of Michigan State Police • State Director of Civilian Defense • State Fuel Administrator • Chairman of American Civil Defense Mission • Detroit Police Commissioner • Member of State Aeronautics Commission • Attorney.

HIS PLATFORM

- Complete unity of action in Lansing: A Republican Governor who will work with our Republican Legislature... for YOUR benefit and the benefit of ALL groups in Michigan—labor, farm, industry and business.
- Positive and aggressive action to get us the highways, the schools, the effective prison program and the improved health facilities we need NOW.
- Expanded conservation and tourist programs so that the people of Michigan can profit more fully from our natural resources and vacationland attractions.
- A policy of thrift in spending YOUR tax dollars, with the lowest possible taxes consistent with sound and efficient state government.
- Better unemployment benefits; more attention to needs of Michigan's aged citizens.
- Approval of Korean War Veterans Bonus.

Band Wins For U.M. At Half-Time, But It's Not All Play

By JOHN BARBOUR
ANN ARBOR (AP)—There's a saying around the Michigan campus: "We may not win every football game, but we do win every half-time."

It's a clear reference to the quick-stepping University of Michigan band, made up of engineering, literary, music, pre-medical and even natural resources students.

The Wolverine marchers are bound together by one singular thrill: the excitement of parading across a football field before a shouting crowd in the chill of a Saturday football afternoon.

But it isn't all Saturday afternoon. George Cavender, assistant director, says that all 144 members of the band practice an hour and a half a day, five days a week.

In the course of an eight week season, they collectively march some 81,242,000 steps or more than one around the world.

Few of the steps are before the football crowd. Most are paced off in the half of Ferry Field allotted to the band for practice. A few feet away, the football squads go through their drills for similar glory.

Football coach Bennie Oosterbaan says, "It doesn't bother me until some halfback begins to do a step to the music."

When the band strikes up, practice sessions for the jerseyed players seem to perk up.

The band drills are as much a precision matter as the quarterback's handoffs in T-formation plays. The band actually marches its music, which is why it needs no supervision except from its own drum majors. Here's how it works:

The band takes eight steps for every five yards of the field. So the music fits right in. Every beat means a step. After long hours of practice, the steps are the same length, so the ranks are straight automatically, without the band members lining up while marching.

Farmer Kills Son Playing Wild Pig

WARNER, N. H. (AP)—Farmer Walter F. Alway shot and killed his 12-year-old son, Water Jr., Sunday night, thinking the youngster's movements in tall grass were those of a wild pig, state police reported today.

Investigators quoted Alway as saying he and his wife were returning from a lumber inspection when they saw the grass moving in a field near their farmhouse. Grunts and shorts came from the field.

Alway said he sent his wife to the house for his rifle. When she returned, he said, he advanced into the field and fired. The shot struck the boy in the head.

Police theorized the boy imitated the wild pig to play a joke on his father.

When South now laid down his heart trump, West was helpless. If he discarded the club jack, dummy would throw off a diamond and South could then easily lead the club nine, forcing out the blank ace. Actually, West chose to discard a diamond. Thereupon, South led a diamond to the king and threw West in with the heart, forcing a club return.

There is no space to show what would have happened if West, instead of returning the heart queen, had knocked out the diamond king, but readers can prove the great difference to themselves by playing out the cards.

Paul Bunyan with a briefcase

There's a real-life Paul Bunyan performing mighty deeds in the North Central area today. He isn't changing the course of rivers . . . or moving mountains . . . but his accomplishments are just as big and they're not fable, but fact. This modern Bunyan is your Prudential Agent . . . all those listed below, and many more in almost every city in America.

Last month in Appleton, for example, he made certain that a widow wouldn't have to go to work and a fatherless child would have a full-time mother.

Last week in Grand Island he saw to it that a farmer's family would never have to leave its lifelong home.

Yesterday in Duluth he made sure that a young boy would one day be able to go to the medical school of his choice. And in Pontiac he saw that bills were paid when a husband and father was laid up by a serious accident.

When your Prudential Agent rings your doorbell, welcome him. He can show you the modern equivalent of moving a mountain.

Miriam Olson Speaks Vows In Church Ceremony

In a candlelight ceremony Saturday, Oct. 23, at 7:30 p. m., at Calvary Lutheran Church in Rapid River Miss Miriam Altha Olson became the bride of Bruce Christie Fitzsimmons. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Olson of Rapid River and Bruce D. Fitzsimmons of Harrisburg, Pa.

The Rev. Clifford Peterson performed the double ring service before an altar adorned with flowers of autumn shades in gold vases, arranged with the cathedral tapers.

Mrs. Bert Bassick was soloist and Mrs. Nils Pearson, organist of the wedding service.

The bride wore a floor length gown of nylon lace and net over bridal satin. The lace bodice was detailed with long sleeves tapering at the wrist and tiny satin covered buttons down the back. Her fingertip veil of tulle was attached to a halo of pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of white baby mums and red roses with cascading showers.

Bridal Attendants

Miss Eugenia M. Petersen of Detroit, a cousin of the bride, who was maid of honor, and Mrs. Frieda K. Olson of Bay City, sister-in-law of the bride, who was bridesmaid, wore floor length dresses of autumn rust nylon net over taffeta styled with lace bodices and bouffant skirts. Lace boleros and matching lace picture hats and mitts completed their attire. They carried baskets holding gold and bronze pompons and mums.

Friedrich K. Olson was Mr. Fitzsimmons' best man. Glen Austad and Carlyle Holmgren of Rapid River seated the guests.

Sandalwood rose lace over taffeta fashioned the gown worn by Mrs. Olson for her daughter's wedding. Her accessories were navy. The bridegroom's sister wore navy faille with white accents, and black accessories. Their corsages were pink roses and spider mums.

The reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the parish hall. Centering the bridal table was the wedding cake made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Ole Wickstrom. The cake, beautifully decorated in white was topped with flowers. It was served by Mrs. Walter Wilbee. Also assisting during the reception were Mrs. Russell Case who poured, Mrs. Glen Austad who was hostess, Miss Edith Mae Johnson who was in charge of gifts and Mrs. Carl Westerburg who presided at the guest book.

Home In Detroit

When the newlyweds left for their honeymoon the bride wore a dusty rose knit suit with a matching hat and brown accessories. They will live in Detroit. The bride is a graduate of Rapid River High School and her husband is a graduate of Milton S. Hershey High School of Hershey, Pa.

Guests at the wedding included, Bruce Fitzsimmons, Jeanie Kosa-

Miss Doris Hogan Is The Bride Of Lt. Robert Semans

Webb A.F.B. Chapel, at Big Spring, Tex., was the scene of the wedding of Miss Doris June Hogan, Evanston, daughter of Mrs. Emma Hogan, 2400 8th Ave. S., and Lt. Robert Semans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Semans, Knox, Ind., Oct. 13.

Chaplain Fix officiated at the 6 p. m. double ring ceremony.

Attendants for the couple were Miss Ann Chilton of Osage, Minn., and Lt. John Chilton, also of Osage.

The bride wore a pale blue orlon suit with navy and white accessories. Her corsage was fashioned of white mums and carnations. A navy dress with navy accessories was worn by the maid of honor. She wore a corsage of yellow asters.

Following the nuptial service, a dinner for the bridal party was served at Carlo's in Big Spring. The newly weds are spending their honeymoon in Indiana. Lower Michigan and Upper Michigan. The bridegroom has been assigned to Tynall A.F.B., Panama City, Fla.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Semans are graduates of Kendall College, located near Evanston, Ill. The bride is a graduate of Escanaba Senior High School.

LEAVE IT TO THE BOYS

Leftover dinner hamburger can come in mighty handy mixed with canned chili when Dad has the boys in for a card game. Remember, too, that they'll probably like it good and hot—so add some red pepper or more chili powder to the canned variety.

8 Try Out For Debate Teams

Debate work has been started at Gladstone High School under the direction of Leonard Newendorp, faculty member.

Eight students are trying out for places on the debate teams. They are: namely, Francis Anderson, Kay Bolger, Margaret Herzog, Karen Kliner, Franklin Lash, Lois LeDuc, Nina Mahor and Pete Weingartner.

Of the eight only Lash has varsity platform experience. Several of the others, however, participated in practice debates last season.

The question this season suggests establishment of a duty free trade system between the United States and countries friendly to us.

Two rounds of practice debates will be held in addition to the Upper Peninsula Championship event which will again be held in Marquette early next year.

Gladstone under C-C auspices, will describe the business survey and its potential benefits.

Secretary Theophil Hoffmann urges every businessman in the city to hear the talk.

Charles Folio, Escanaba, of the Extension service of the U of M. will also be present and speak briefly.

Supt. Wallace C. Cameron will serve as toastmaster and will lead group singing with J. Donald Grenfell at the piano.

Advance sale of tickets conducted by Frank Jandro indicates the event will be well attended.

OES Officers Are Installed

Officers of Ida Chapter No. 54, Order of the Eastern Star, were installed Saturday evening at the Masonic Temple.

Those installed were: Mrs. Axel Allert, worthy matron; John Hanson, worthy patron; Mrs. Howard Hewitt, associate matron; Wilbert Rousse, associate patron; Mrs. Grace MacDonald, secretary; Mrs. James Howland, treasurer; Mrs. Carlton Siddall, marshal; Mrs. Lester Richards, chaplain; Mrs. Malcolm Nelson, conductress; Mrs. Helen McGlothlin, associate conductress; Mrs. Leo Curran, Adah; Mrs. John Davidson, Ruth; Mrs. Edward Jackson, Esther; Mrs. John Hanson, Martha; Mrs. Wilbert Rouse, Electa; Mrs. Eric Tornberg, Warder; and Eric Tornberg, sentinel.

Installing officers, all past matrons of the order, were Mrs. James H. Fyvie, installing matron; Mrs. Leon Nicholson, installing marshal; Mrs. Leslie Bouschor, assisting marshal; Mrs. Nellie Raredon, installing chaplain; and Mrs. A. F. Hall, installing organist.

The new worthy matron was escorted to the East by her husband. Baskets of white mums decorated the dais and white candles were lit for each officer as they assumed stations. Mrs. George Drek, accompanied by Mrs. James H. Fyvie, sang, "My Task." Mrs. Allert was presented with a bouquet of roses by Mrs. Malcolm Nelson. Gossages and boutonniere's were presented new officers and installing officers by the worthy patron.

Mrs. Carlton Siddall, retiring worthy matron, was escorted to the East, and presented the new worthy matron with a white ritual, a gift from Ida Chapter. Mrs. Allert then presented Mrs. Siddall with a past matron's jewel, also a chapter gift. Mrs. Howard Hewitt also presented a gift to Mrs. Siddall, from her officers.

After Mrs. Drew sang "Gods Rainbow Shines for You," for Mrs. Siddall, a receiving line was formed and new officers were greeted.

The dining room was decorated with pumpkins, fruit and candles. Lunch was served by Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cool, Mr. and Mrs. George Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Olson, Mrs. Carl Olson, Lester Richards, Alex Robertson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richards.

Out-of-town guests present were the worthy matron's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Belanger and children, Charles, Cherie and Phillip, of Paw Paw and several guests from Escanaba and Gladstone.

Beach Will Talk At Rotaryann Meet Monday

Members of the Manistique Rotary club, their wives and guests will hold a Rotaryann party Monday night at the Surf, with Harrison Beach as the principal speaker.

The program will include piano music by Mrs. Roy LaMarche, violin numbers by Carl Olson, and movies of the West Coast trip recently taken by Beach.

Fred Hahne and Otmir Schuster are in charge of arrangements.

Three Go To Jail On Larceny Count

Pleas of guilty to charges of simple larceny were entered in justice court here Monday by Basil Pizzala, 18, Iron St., Joseph Kaiser, 19, 168 Rover St., and Albert Welch, 29, Gould City.

The men were arrested Friday by Manistique State Police after they increased amounts of checks issued to them by Albert Huebscher, of Cooks, for picking potatoes. Each was ordered to serve 15 days in jail and to make restitution of $10 each to Huebscher, complainant in the case. The checks had been cashed at Gentz Grocery, Raffay Oil company and Weber Sales and Service here.

Winkelman Tells Of African Hunt

Pictures of an African hunting trip, which showed a variety of game species found in Tanganyika as well as scenes in the bush country and Johannesburg, were shown to members of the Manistique Rotary club Monday noon by Leon Winkelman of Detroit, former resident of this city.

Winkelman spent seven weeks in Africa about a year ago and on his hunting trip shot camp game for the hunting party, a water buffalo and other wild life.

The speaker came here from Gladstone, accompanied by John Olson, and was introduced by Fred H. Hahne of Manistique.

Wants Company— Also Ice Cream

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — A lone-some newcomer to Brookley Air Force Base put this ad in the Mobile Register:

"Young 6-foot Baptist Air Force gunner just returned from two years overseas would like to meet young Mobile girl with ice cream freezer. Object home made ice cream."

Drowning Was Cause Of Moose's Death At Garden

A red mark found on the neck of the moose discovered on the Bay de Noc shore at Garden Corners Saturday afternoon indicates the animal probably tangled in a lead for a pound net and drowned. Hugh Fisher of Nahma, state conservation officer reports.

The moose was discovered by Isadore Bonifas Jr., of Garden Corners. He summoned state police and conservation officials. No wounds were found when the carcass was autopsied at conservation district headquarters in Escanaba Saturday, Fisher reported.

The moose seen in Michigan are probably coming from Canada, by swimming the St. Mary's River, the officer said.

The animal appeared to have been dead 12 hours when found, he stated. Moose, he explained, have hollow hide hairs and float immediately.

Five Are Fined On Traffic Counts

Chalmers LaFreniere, 131 E. Elk St., was assessed fines totaling $10 and court costs of $4 for not having a chauffeur's license and not having directional lights on a commercial vehicle.

Also fined in justice court Monday were Harold Rodgers, 534 Park Ave., who paid $2 fine and $2 costs for driving with an expired chauffeur's license; Ralph Arrowood, 637 Michigan Ave., who was assessed $3 fine and $2 costs for parking on the highway; and Clifford E. Cota of Wetmore, who was levied fine of $2 and costs of $2 for driving with an expired operator's license.

Mrs. Marie DuFour, 120 S. 4th St., paid fine of $8 and costs of $2 for permitting an unlicensed minor to drive a car.

A large force of sheep dogs specially trained to be locomotive conscious by British railways watch for the approach of trains and herd the sheep in the fields to points of safety.

Dave Arnold, assistant state high school athletic director, says the 11:05.5 time turned in by Ken Harwood of Rapid River in the Upper Peninsula Class C-D-E cross country run here recently is a record for the Escanaba course in Class C-D-E. A faster time was turned in (11:04) in 1949 but that race was run on the Iron Mountain course. Escanaba's Dick Casey holds the all-class record here, winning in 1932 in 10:36.6.

Billy Launderville, former 135-pound Escanaba Golden Gloves boxer, has grown into a 185-pound heavyweight since entering Uncle Sam's army. And the added weight has been paying off in punching power apparently. Bill scored two straight knockouts in army bouts at his base in Greenland this month. One came in the first round and the other in the third. He's due back in the United States next month.

Merts Mortorelli, former Ironwood football coach whose Red Devils won the U. P. championship last season, has been having his troubles at his new post at Superior State Teachers College. Superior has lost five straight in the Wisconsin State College Conference to date. His former prep team, fallen from the top ranks, has three wins against four defeats.

Roger Carlson of Gladstone became the leading place-kicker in the Upper Peninsula Friday night when he booted three against the Stephenson Eagles to raise his season total to 14. Bob Corson of Manistique finished with a deadly display against Marquette, scoring on six of seven attempts to raise his total to 13. Iron River's Leroy Kapusta had 12 going into the final game against Iron Mountain but quarterback Gene Lilley took over that department and booted four for seven. Bill White of Negaunee, who runs for his PATs, scored one against Calumet and also has 12 for the season. The Gladstone halfback has one more game, against Escanaba Saturday, in which to boost his total.

You can't convince Jim Ripley of Menominee, sports editor of the Menominee Herald Leader, that first downs mean anything in a football game. Rip points out that the Menominee Maroons registered only one first down against the Soo Blue Devils Saturday. But Menominee won the game 13-0. The lone first down came late in the game after Menominee had already scored its two touchdowns. Soo picked up four first downs in the losing battle.

There is little doubt that Iron River will be named the Upper Peninsula football champion and the recipient of the Barber Trophy. And there is less doubt that Iron River halfback Eddie Vergara will make the All-U. P. team. The Hawaiian Hurricane wrapped up an illustrious prep career by scoring five times as Iron River completed its third undefeated season with a 46-0 win over Iron Mountain. Vergara scored 109 points during this season.

Small College Star Prefers Preaching To Big Headlines

By JOE MOOSHIL

WHEATON, Ill. (AP)—Dave Burnham, star quarterback who turned down 45 football scholarships, says preaching the Gospel to children is more satisfying than any sports page writeup. Burnham, 20, who ran and passed for 900 yards at Wheaton last year, broke his shinbone Saturday in leading Wheaton to 27-6 victory over Lake Forest. Burnham, rated an honorable mention on last year's Little All-America, will be out of action for the rest of the season. Lying in a hospital with his left leg in a cast, Burnham smiled as he mused over some of the offers he received after a fabulous sports career at Buchtel High in Akron, Ohio.

Turned All Down

"My father and I added up 45 scholarship offers, some verbal and some by letter, before we stopped counting," Burnham said. "I received offers from such schools as Ohio State, Columbia, Yale, Southern Methodist, Michigan and Florida." Burnham, however, turned them all down and decided to pay his own way in order to prepare himself for the ministry. His father, Carl Burnham, is pastor of the Chapel at Brown and Vine in Akron.

"Ever since I was a little kid, visiting ministers would talk about Wheaton as the only Christian college which had a good intercollegiate sports program, especially football. When I was 12, I decided to be a minister and I found Wheaton offered everything I needed in that field," he said.

Wavered Once

Only once did he waver and that was when scouts approached him after he won all state honors in football and basketball and starred in an high school all star football game.

"One of the schools," said Dave, "Offered to put me through medical school and even to set me up in practice after graduation. But I felt called to the ministry and decided on Wheaton."

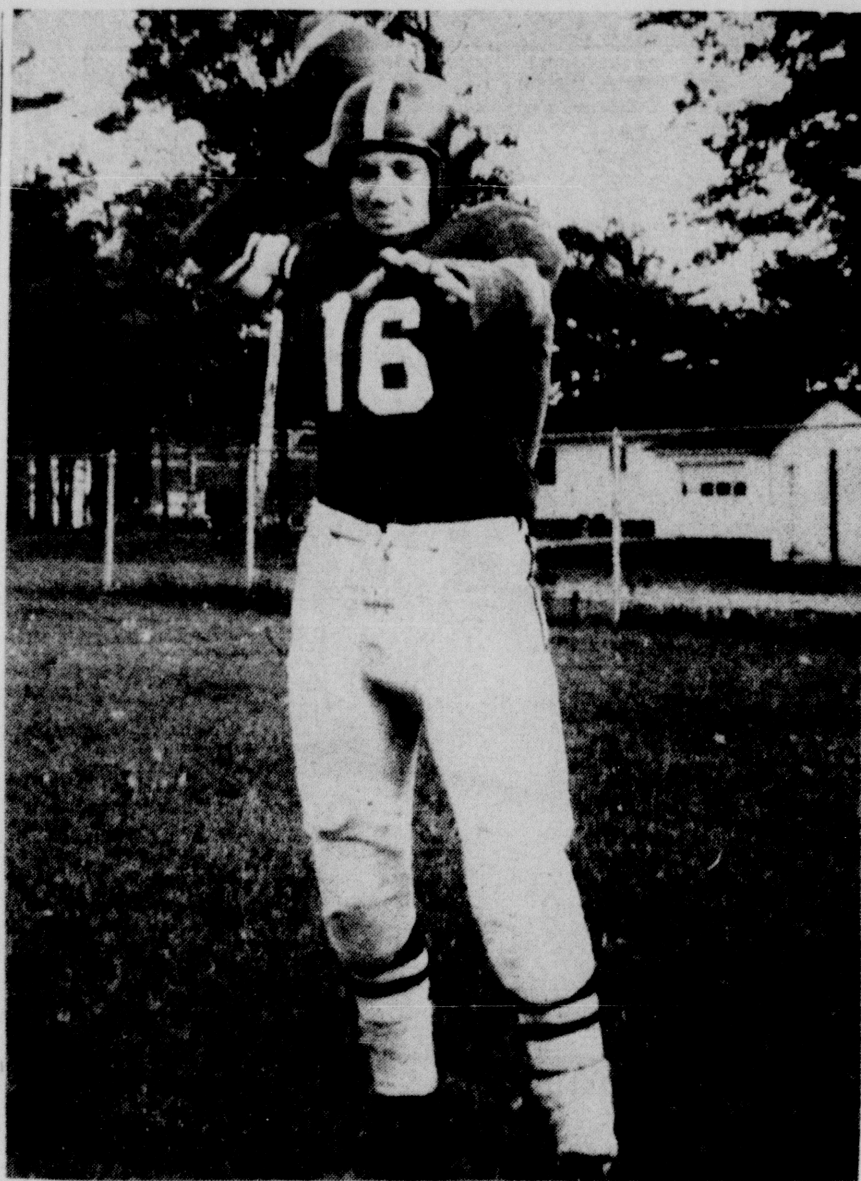

"I'm completely happy here and as for sports they're not an end in themselves. The thrill of having contact with young persons and telling them of their relationship with Jesus Christ is better than any sports page writeup."

Kids Will Listen

Burnham, who was a speaker on a college-sponsored gospel team which traveled 9,000 miles last summer, spends many of his Sundays preaching to derelicts on Chicago's Skid Row.

On last summer's tour, Dave estimated he spoke to 20,000 youngsters — many of them aware of his Little All America status. "It's easy to get kids to listen when they know you're an athlete," says Dave.

Doctors say Burnham will be as good as new next season when he'll be a senior. After that he plans to go to a seminary for further study in order some day to assist his father in a new church in Akron.

SENIOR HALFBACK—J. C. Miller, Gladstone halfback, will be playing his final game for Coach Don Pfothner when the Braves entertain Escanaba in the final game of the 1954 season Saturday afternoon. Miller stands 5-10 and weighs 150. A good passer and runner, Miller is also a defensive standout as a halfback. (Daily Press Photo)

Emeralds Open Cage Practice This Week

MANISTIQUE—Practice for the 1954-55 basketball season began in Manistique High School Monday night with seven returning lettermen registering for the opening session.

In the experienced bracket will be Robert Corson, Robert Hastings, Carl Scharstrom, Ken Dixer, Bill Holm, Don Anderson and Ed Bernier.

Dave Cook, Ralph Williams, Richard Morton and Bim Gero, who played with the reserves last year, are trying for the varsity team this season. Coach Rudie Brandstrom reports.

New youths trying out this year include Jack Lanier, a junior who transferred from Lower Michigan, and Fred Bender and Ed Busch, seniors.

The MHS cagers have a 16-game schedule in store for the season and will play their first game against the American Soo Dec. 3. Practice sessions are slated after school this week. Next week regular sessions will be conducted after supper in the new gym, the coach reports.

Basketball reserves, coached by Richard Berger, also began practice Monday night.

Grayson Wonders Why They Wanted Saxton To Win Championship

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—When a fighter is putting a title on the line, even at $40,000 a rattle, it's always safest to remain in his own backyard.

The first rule in the beak busting book long has been: "Never risk anything of consequence in Philadelphia."

Angel Lopez, the Broadway night club proprietor who manages Kid Gavilan with the sterling advice of some odd characters, violated it. And, as Jimmy Wilson, trainer of Johnny Saxton, puts it best, "Gavilan just got outsmarted." Blinky Palermo, a staunch Quaker, had the Gavilan mob on his home ground, you see.

The Gavilan crowd was outsmarted all right, but the Keed was not outfought. How can you be outfought when there is no fighting? But a ring-side poll gave Gavilan the rumba 20 to 2, and 10 of the 15 rounds with one even.

Gavilan said that every taxicab driver in Philadelphia knew Saxton couldn't lose if he went the limit. That made you wonder why the Cubanola sobbed so hysterically when the taxi pushers were proven right.

You also wonder why Palermo and his gang wanted Saxton as the welterweight champion. The Flushing clutcher specializes in curing insomnia. His sure cure worked wonders when he waltzed with Johnny Bratton in Philadelphia and Livo Minelli and Lester Felton in New York.

IN THE MATCH in which he was getting the shot at the crown, he had to be warned for doing precisely nothing by Frank Wiener, who gave Gavilan the same pep talk.

Chairman Wiener of the Pennsylvania commission expressed the sentiment of the 7909 people who suffered through the fiasco at its site and the millions who saw it via television.

"Take the first defense of your title anywhere you want," he said.

But there is always business for a bloke with a championship, which, of course, is the one reason Proprietor Palermo put Saxton on top. Syracuse was on hand with a $40,000 guarantee, which seems to be the price, for Saxton to wrestle Carmen Basilio.

The thing in Philadelphia was so bad that the customers couldn't even work up the enthusiasm to get mad. People turned off their television sets. Strong men in pubs switched to "This Is Your Life," which was vastly superior what with Dorothy Lamour.

IF THERE WAS a story in the Philadelphia bust, it was that Gavilan is as washed up as Sugar Ray Robinson, the frustrated dancer. In being jobbed, the Keed was just plain awful, which gives you a good idea of what Saxton was like.

At one time, Gavilan was an authentic left-hooker with blazing speed and a chin with the general consistency of hardened concrete. He could move and fight in vicious flurries which forced the best opponents obtainable to cover. He never was, in this book, a truly great, but he had enough to rule his division and earn a highly-profitable match with Bobo Olson, a Grade A middleweight champion as fighters go today.

Victim of a major robbery, or just a small pickpocket job, Kid Gavilan nevertheless would not have kept the championship much longer.

It's too bad that the title didn't go to Carmen Basilio or some worthwhile warrior instead of Johnny Saxton.

The new champion appears to have been turned out by an automobile factory. He has a guaranteed automatic clutch.

And the wrestling fans will stick to Verne Gagne.

They don't like fighters cutting in on their guys' racket.

Rookie-Studded Teams Set Pace

(By The Associated Press)

The rookie-studded Fort Wayne and Cincinnati teams ranked 1-2 in the International Hockey League today, with the Komets on top by virtue of their 3-1 victory over the Mohawks last week.

It was only the third loss suffered by Cincinnati at the hands of Fort Wayne in the last three years. Troy holds third place in the league, winning one game from Toledo and tying fifth-place, downed Grand Rapids but bowed to second-place Cincinnati twice. Toledo goes after its first victory tonight at Grand Rapids.

The longest punt ever recorded by a University of North Carolina football player came in 1937 when Tom Burnette boomed a kick 85 yards against New York University.

Old Rivalries Resume In U.P. This Weekend

The 1954 Upper Peninsula high school football season comes to a close (except for the Menominee-Marquette classic) this weekend with long-time rivals clashing in key contests.

In this area, the Escanaba-Gladstone battle on Gladstone's field Saturday afternoon has stimulated considerable interest. On Friday night the crippled Catholic Central team will play host to winless Stephenson.

The Bark River Broncos, close out their campaign with a tough assignment against Norway Saturday.

Other Feature Battles

Elsewhere in the Upper Peninsula a number of hotly contested rivalries between neighboring towns will be resumed on the final weekend.

On Friday night Hancock will invade Houghton in the annual Copper Bowl clash. Hancock has won five and lost two while Houghton has a 6-1 record for the year.

A highlight in the Menominee Range Conference Friday night pits Iron Mountain against Kingsford on the Flivver gridiron. Kingsford enters the game with five wins and two defeats while the Mountaineers have won two and lost five.

Seek Second Straight

Wakefield, champion of the Western U. P. League, tangles with nearby Bessemer in another feature clash. Wakefield has won six and lost one; Bessemer has a 5-2 mark.

When the Gladstone Braves, champions of the Great Lakes Conference, meet Escanaba Saturday they will be shooting for their second straight victory over the Eskymos. Last season they won 35-7.

The Braves will also be seeking their best season record since the 1946 campaign when they won seven straight. Gladstone had 6-1-1 records in 1947 and 1949.

Broncs Eye First Win

Escanaba's record this season is one victory against six losses. The Eskymos played good enough to win several of their opening games but lacked the scoring punch to put over the deciding touchdown.

Catholic Central's record entering the Stephenson game Friday night at Memorial Field is four wins and three losses. The defeats were suffered to Stambaugh, Green Bay Central and Munising, the latter winning 12-6 last Saturday.

Stephenson comes here with six straight defeats this year. Bark River will be looking for its first win against Norway. The Broncos have lost four in a row.

Ben Martin, assistant football coach at Navy, is a former Middle star. He played in every Navy game from 1942 through 1944 as either halfback or end.

Every swimming record for the Texas A. A. U. outdoor championships was broken this year in both men's and women's divisions.

Hayes Not Elated At Football Rating

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes expressed no elation today when he got the word the Buckeye football team had been designated the Nation's No. 1 team in the Associated Press weekly poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

"That's too bad," said Hayes, seeming to infer the high rating might not help the Bucks' in their drive for the Big Ten Title and the Rose Bowl.

At a Monday luncheon for sports writers Hayes said, "I know everyone is talking about National ratings and Rose Bowl and all those things, but to us, the season is merely half over. That's how we look at it. Four important ones yet to go!"

Northwestern, Pittsburgh, Purdue and Michigan, in that order, remain in Ohio State's schedule.

Eskymos Have Big Edge In Series With Braves

The Escanaba Eskymos hold a decided edge over the Gladstone Braves in the long football rivalry between the two schools, dating back to 1899.

Of the 43 games played since that date Gladstone has won six, lost 32 and tied five. Victories for the Braves came last year, in 1946, 1930, 1928, 1911 and 1901.

Last season the Braves set an all-time Gladstone record by scoring 35 points against 7 for the Eskymos. It was the largest score compiled by Gladstone since the series began.

Shooting for one of their best records in recent years, the Braves will be determined to take advantage of their opportunity this season. They enter the game with six wins and one loss while the Eskymos have one win and six losses.

The series results:

Ohio State Takes Over Top Spot In Grid Poll

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press
Ohio State's Buckeyes, a collection of football players with roses in their eyes and mayhem in their hearts, have replaced Oklahoma as the No. 1 college team in the opinion of the nation's sports writers and broadcasters.

The earned the honor crushing Wisconsin 31-14 last Saturday while Oklahoma was sliding listlessly through a 21-0 decision over Kansas State. Oklahoma had been on top of the Associated Press poll for three weeks.

Club Owners To Meet Tomorrow To Decide On Transfer Of A's

By TOM BRADSHAW
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The long-drawn-out drama of the Philadelphia Athletics and their future Tuesday was in rehearsal for the latest act to come—a meeting of American League owners at Chicago Thursday.

proval became known, the syndicate began efforts to have Roy agree to an extension. Earle and Connie Sr. had agreed to the extension previously. But Roy heged.

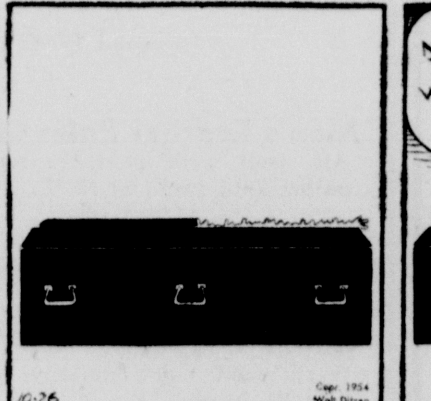

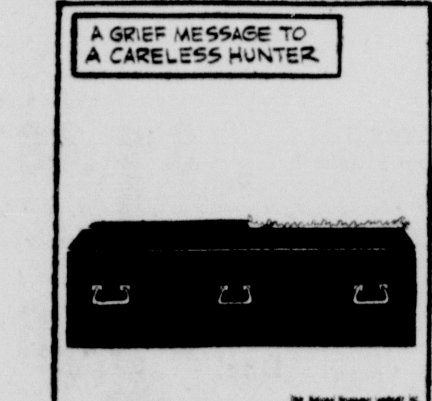

The new order, after the first four, is Army, Notre Dame, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Purdue and Miami (Fla.).

Should Be Over
There is every reason to believe the stock-cash transfer will all but end the play.

Johnson came to Philadelphia to pull the fat out of the fire, but arrived too late. He went west again and announced he was planning to sue the syndicate and Roy Mack to recover losses he said he sustained in connection with his negotiations.

Many of the 1,500 spectators who paid $2.02 at St. Nicholas Arena thought the former NBA champ simply didn't have it any more.

Goebel...first American beer to win acclaim in Germany

Director of Henninger Brewery, Frankfurt, calls Goebel "one of world's truly fine beers"

"We have tried Goebel Beer at our brewery in Frankfurt, Germany. It is a pleasure to verify that it continues the great European tradition which we follow in our brewing of Henninger Beer. It is both light in body, dry in flavor, and altogether satisfying to the taste."

"We feel that Goebel Beer deserves its place among the world's truly fine beers."

It's unusual when other breweries praise Goebel... more unusual when you remember these breweries are in Germany, Holland, Belgium, England, Switzerland—the traditional centers of fine beers.

If you haven't tried Goebel recently, ask for it next time. You owe it to your own good taste to see just how good it is.

How's Your Hamburger Repertoire

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

IF YOUR BUDGET benefits from frequent chopped-beef dinners, you'll want to add this tomato and meat ball dish to your hamburger repertoire. It is one of those budget and flavor wise dishes that is fine for a family meal. Easily and quickly made, too!

The meat balls are tangy with tomato sauce; they have a pleasant soft texture because the liquid from a can of tomatoes, and soft bread crumbs, go into them. Rolled in a mixture of flour, salt and paprika before they are browned, they have appetizing color. You use the rest of the can of tomatoes to make into a good rich gravy-like sauce to serve with the meat balls and cooked noodles.

When I prepare meat balls, I like to get them the same size. So what I do in this recipe is to take up a level quarter-cup measure of the meat mixture, then shape two balls out of this amount. If you do this, you'll have about 18 meat balls out of this recipe.

I find families differ in the amount of noodles they consume at a meal. If your family are really big pasta eaters, you may want to double the amount of noodles called for in this recipe. Use any width noodle you like, from the fine to the wide. To cook the 4 ounces of noodles called for, heat 6 cups water with 1½ teaspoons salt until boiling in a large saucepan; drop the noodles into the boiling water and boil nine to 14 minutes, depending on how tender you like them. Stir the noodles oc-asionally so they won't stick, and drain them thoroughly in a colander as soon as they are ready. Double the amounts of water and salt if you are cooking 8 ounces of noodles, but keep the boiling time the same.

TOMATO MEAT BALL DISH
Ingredients: One No. 2 can tomatoes, ¼ teaspoon tabasco sauce, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon dried parsley or dried shredded green onions, 1 cup soft bread crumbs, 1 pound ground chuck beef, 3 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon paprika, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons diced celery, 2 tablespoons diced green pepper, ¼ teaspoon dried thyme or oregano, 4 ounces noodles any width (cooked).
Method: Drain liquid from canned tomatoes; there should be ½ cup. Stir in tabasco, 1 teaspoon salt and parsley. Pour over crumbs in mixing bowl; mash crumbs in liquid until they become a soft mass. Add beef; mix well with a fork. Form into about 18 balls, using about 2 tablespoons of the meat mixture for each. Mix flour, ½ teaspoon salt and the paprika; roll meat balls in mixture. Melt butter in 10-inch skillet; brown meat balls. Add celery, green pepper, reserved tomatoes and thyme. (If tomatoes are solid-pack, break up.) Cover; simmer 30 minutes. Turn hot cooked noodles into serving dish; spoon meat balls and tomato sauce over top. Makes 4 servings.

Many Types Geiger Counters Are Sold

Many types of lightweight, portable counters for uranium prospectors are sold at prices ranging from $30 to $700. In the last four years more than 10,000 counters have been sold to individual prospectors and another 25,000 to private companies, says the National Geographic Society. The Geiger counter uses a gas-filled tube with a high electric voltage set up between its walls and a wire running down the center. When radiations from uranium minerals pass through the tube, they collide with gas molecules and produce pulsations of electric current. This actuates a needle on a dial, blinks a light, or sounds a click in ear-phones.

Arrest Saves Life Of Wanted Man

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Alvie Watham was happy the police arrested him.
Officers W. A. Williams and W. E. Davis arrived in time to jerk Watham out of a burning bed where he had gone to sleep with a lighted cigarette in his hand.
He was jailed on charges of four separate traffic violations.

Wrote Many Checks, Most Of Them Bad

AMERICAN FALLS, Idaho (AP) — Wilbur Herman Gardner, 28, was taken before probate judge J. W. Collings in American Falls on a forgery charge. He told reporters: "The only difference between Rockefeller and me is that his checks are good and mine aren't. But we both write a lot of them."

New Jelly-Like Formula Knocks Baked Grease Off Oven Surfaces

KEEP IT QUIET — This pretty young lady finds the world's largest "quiet" room a perfect place to take a break from her work. Supposedly one of the quietest places ever constructed, the room is part of a General Electric sound laboratory in Pittsfield, Mass. The relaxing girl is seated in front of a 41-foot-high door covered with fiber-glass wedges that absorb sound. There are more than 12,000 of these wedges in the room.

Wyandotte Man Lands 80-Pound Sturgeon On 30-Pound Test Line

DETROIT (AP) — A 35-year-old fisherman from suburban Wyandotte is proudly displaying his biggest catch—an 80-pound sturgeon measuring 5 feet 1 inch.

The big fish, believed to be a record for this area, was caught Saturday night by Stanley Jurczyk Jr., in the lower Detroit River near Fighting Island.

Jurczyk said he snagged the fish in 15 feet of water and fought it for 35 minutes before bringing it into his boat.

Jurczyk was using a 30-pound test line, an ordinary glass casting rod and a standard casting reel.

Connecticut claims that the first Methodist Church in New England was built at Easton, Conn. in 1790.
